Chair Cogen unveils proposed 2012-13 county budget

MULTNOMAH COUNTY OREGON 1854

Multnomah County Chair Jeff Cogen said Thursday that his proposed budget for the upcoming fiscal year maintains essential services despite the ongoing challenges of a struggling economy.

"The tough economy continues to increase the needs for all too many people in this community," Cogen told his colleagues on the county Board of Commissioners. "But I am happy to report that despite these challenges, this year's budget maintains critical services for Multnomah County residents."

"It does so by doing what we've done in recent budgets: Use the challenges we face to find opportunities to work better -- and smarter than before," Cogen said in his budget message to the board. [Read more]
