University Receptions... showcase your academic programs at the Annual Conference

Promote your department and degree programs and meet prospective students and faculty at the University Receptions, an annual event at the NCFR Annual Conference. This year, the University Receptions are Friday, November 2, 7:15-8:45pm. Contact Judy Schutz for details, judy@ncfr.org. Want additional presence? NCFR is offering colleges an exhibit booth for half off the nonprofit exhibitor rate if your organization also participates in the University Reception. Exhibits are open Wednesday evening, Thursday morning and afternoon, and Friday morning (October 31-November 2).

United Nations - their work with families

The United Nations recognizes families as the basic unit of society. Nearly all UN system activities touch on the family, in its various forms. Read more about the United Nations and its programs and related interest areas.

TCRM Workshop provides insight into the research process...register now!

If you're planning or starting a research project later this year or next, the Theory Construction Research Methodology (TCRM) Workshop can be a valuable asset to help you. The TCRM Workshop, part of the NCFR Annual Conference, offers an interactive review of research papers in progress, so you'll have a chance to see and hear how experienced researchers go about assessing data and constructing theory. All participants have access to the accepted papers prior to the workshop, so the sessions provide relevant, focused discussion. This year there are five concurrent TCRM paper sessions as well as 3-hour workshop blocks. TCRM sessions are scheduled during the conference this year (instead of starting as a pre-conference event) on Thursday afternoon and evening and Friday morning. Separate registration is required; cost is $30 for professionals and $25 for students.

Process

How we got there

- Start with MailChimp templates
- Copy in your website's styles
- Add CSS3 Media Queries
- Test, Test and Test again (Email on Acid)

Start with a solid foundation

Get your brand right

Copy your website

- Open Firebug (or other code inspector) and start matching elements
- Focus on:
 - color
 - font-family
 - font-size
 - font-weight
 - line-height

Add CSS3 @media query

Normal Responsive HTML

@media screen and (max-width: 600px) {
  table.emailtable, td.emailcontent {
    width: 95% !important;
  }
  h1, h2, h3, h4 {
    text-align:center !important;
  .nomob {
    display: none !important;
  }
  .header_content{
    text-align:center !important;
  }
  a.footer_nav {
    display: block !important;
    font-size: 14px !important;
    font-weight: bold !important;
    padding: 6px 4px 8px 4px !important;
    line-height: 18px !important;
    background: #dddddd !important;
    border-radius: 5px !important;
    margin: 10px auto;
    width: 240px;
    text-align: center;
  }
}
```

Mobile Transformation

Gotchas

No bullet points or numbered lists

- Some webmail clients left justify them
- Some webmail clients center them
- Some left-justify lists & center the content
- Path of least resistance = ditch the `` tag, go w/ asterisks & line breaks instead

- GMail and Yahoo Mail default paragraph (``) tags to align center align when viewed in Internet Explorer
- Other browsers still align paragraphs left
- ?!?
- Forcing the alignment left fixes it

Add a template suggestion file for per-content-type pages:

Drupal 6:

function yourthemename_preprocess_page(&$vars) {
  if (isset($vars['node'])) {
    // If node type is "newsletter", it will pickup "page-newsletter.tpl.php".
    $vars['template_files'][] = 'page-' . str_replace('_', '-', $vars['node']->type);
  }
}
```

Drupal 7:

```
function yourthemename_preprocess_page(&$vars) {
  if (isset($vars['node']->type)) {
    // If node type is "newsletter", it will pickup "page-newsletter.tpl.php".
    $vars['theme_hook_suggestions'][] = 'page-' . str_replace('_', '-', $vars['node']->type);
  }
}
```

Theme it

Copy your email template and add
the page-level content / variables

–Title, logo...

Theme it

node-newsletter.tpl.php

Theme & Preprocess your nodes

Render out the content using acceptable low-grade newsletter
HTML

Send it

Manual Send = Better

Copy-Paste that HTML to your tool (MailChimp, Listserv, etc).

TEST!

Drupal can send your email newsletter directly -- but YIKES
(I click submit and 20,000+ people get an email?!?!)
